

Degrees Awarded to 195

Grads Hear Meyerson Address American Future

Speaking with hope, Dr. Martin Meyerson, 20th president of the University of Pennsylvania, challenged Juniata's graduating seniors with four endeavors May 28: to extend material well-being for all Americans, to strengthen democratic institutions, to reinforce voluntary action and to sustain American higher education.

"If you have the imagination and the courage to return to the principles on which the nation was built," he urged, "there is no reason why Americans should not achieve for themselves and for all men the kind of century we once took for granted as ours."

"We will put a new imprint of candor and generosity on the face of a world-weary civilization. Then we will be able to look confidently upon ourselves as makers of the future—a posture that has been historically American and which must now become yours."

Dr. Meyerson's address, "Redefining the American Future: An Unfinished Agenda," referred to the founding fathers' intention "to form a more perfect Union, establish justice . . . promote the general welfare and secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity."

Bachelor's degrees were conferred by President Binder upon 195 students at Commencement. An additional 26 were recognized as candidates for August degrees.

Two graduates—Robert W. Armstrong of Malvern and Audrey F. Seasholtz of Wyomissing Hills, received their degrees summa cum laude. Seven earned magna cum laude and six cum laude degrees.

Honorary degrees were awarded Dr. Meyerson (doctor of laws), Dr. Robert W. Neff (doctor of divinity, see Baccalaureate story), and C. Jewett Henry '29 (doctor of laws).

The candidates were presented by Dr. Thomas R. Miller '36, vice president of the Union Carbide Corporation; Lester M. Rosenberger, president of the National Milling and Chemical Company; and John W. Swigart, Sr. '30, president of Swigart Associates, Inc. All are members of the Board of Trustees.

Material well-being, said Dr. Meyerson, must be ensured at a basic threshold. He singled out adequate health care and housing.

Of democratic institutions he said, "Every generation must rethink the operational meaning of the law and of morality in government, and this is particularly true today. Government should not be the master; it should fill a subordinate role, helping to reduce friction, to facilitate and to supply services, but only when these are not otherwise provided by economic and social institutions."

He also asked graduates to continue the American tradition of voluntarism, encouraging use of both talent and material resources in support of nonprofit institutions.

Finally, Dr. Meyerson challenged graduates "to see to it that higher education has the benefit of your support in time and resources, and your allegiance as well as your constructive criticism as citizens."

Educated at Columbia and Harvard Universities, Dr. Meyerson assumed his present post in 1970. Then 47, he had earlier taught at Penn, the University of Chicago (social sciences) and Harvard (city planning and urban research). After serving as dean of the College of Environmental Design and acting chancellor (1965) of the University of California at Berkeley, he was president of the State University of New York at Buffalo, 1966-70.

In urban and regional development, he has worked with governments and private groups throughout the world. He has served in several U.N. posts, was a founder of London's Centre for Environmental Studies, and is a director of the President Binder and the honorary degree recipients at Commencement in the 102nd Year: left to right, Baccalaureate Speaker Robert W. Neff; Trustee Chairman C. Jewett Henry '29; and Commencement Speaker Martin Meyerson.

Institute for International Education.

He has served on the steering committee of the National Urban Coalition, a successor to ACTION, of which he was the first executive director. He is also a director of the American Council on Financial Aid to Education and has served on various White House Task Forces, councils of the U.S. Office of Science and Technology and NASA, and many other institutes, agencies and foundations.

Attorney Henry, chairman of the Juniata Board of Trustees, received a surprise degree, his second honor of the weekend (see Alumni Awards story).

In his presentation, Swigart stated, "In an age which seems to nurture confused identity and unstable virtue, Jewett Henry moves among us with graceful integrity and quiet dignity. His heritage deep within the rural heart of his native Pennsylvania, he carries the aura of one who has reconciled good common sense with cosmopolitan sophistication.

"A man of deep religious convictions and an enlightened social conscience, he has called us by word and example to standards of educational and ethical excellence and with keen perspective and gentle spirit helps sustain our community and our college."

Baccalaureate Sermon

Neff Urges "Sense of Wonder"

Using scriptural lessons from Job and Revelation, yet drawing also from Star Wars and poet Lawrence Ferlinghetti, Dr. Robert W. Neff, general secretary of the Church of the Brethren General Board, extended one hope to graduating seniors at the Baccalaureate Service in May: "that your life will be blessed with a sense of wonder and amazement."

In his sermon, "Whatever Happened to the Stars at Midnight?", Dr. Neff pointed out that "Wonder led to the maturation of Job. It is the beginning point of the journey that led you here in the first place. (But) we can become so comfortable in the inwardness of our own life that we miss an expanding universe. We can become so preoccupied with the lights we have lit that we forget the one Light that lights all our existence."

"All life is filled with transitions," said the Church's chief administrative officer, referring to groups and institutions as well as individuals. "There are times when the stars go out at night and there is the attempt to stay close to home, to return to an earlier period where it is safe and secure. For Job personal meaning had been abandoned and for Revelation a society had lost its course."

Both books, he said, were written to counter a growing inwardness, a drive recurring today and often described as a "religious revival." He warned, however, "There is a danger that inwardness may mean my own salvation and nothing more. Such a step within the context of American religious life would be a fatal error. It would not prepare us for an emerging world."

Three seniors joined in leading the service: Priscilla Grove of Altoona, William H. Kepner of Lancaster and Thomas D. Logue of Huntingdon. The Rev. M. Andrew Murray, campus minister, offered the morning prayers.

Dr. Neff, who also received an honorary doctor of divinity degree at Commencement, is a 1958 graduate of the Pennsylvania State University. He holds B.D., M.A., and Ph.D. degrees from Yale

(continued, page 11)

President Binder, Hyssong, and Dr. Donald T. Hartman, dean of academic affairs.

Soph Selected for Scotland Year as Mutch Scholar

A Juniata sophomore, Mark D. Hyssong of Glassboro, N.J., has been selected by the St. Andrew's Society of Philadelphia as an Andrew Mutch Scholar for the 1978-79 academic year.

Hyssong, who will spend his junior year in Scotland at the University of Aberdeen, was chosen for the prestigious award from among nominees from 10 other colleges and universities: Ursinus, Swarthmore, Franklin and Marshall, Haverford, Dickinson and Antioch Colleges; Temple, Bucknell and the Pennsylvania State Universities; and the University of Pennsylvania.

His scholarship will cover tuition, fees, room, board, books, incidentals and transportation to and from Scotland.

Since 1957, the St. Andrew's Society has sent 45 students to the Universities of St. Andrews, Aberdeen and Edinburgh, all in Scotland. This was the first year in which Juniata had been invited to enter a nominee.

Nominees are considered on the basis of their academic achievement, Scots heritage, financial need, sincerity and integrity.

"I am extremely proud of Mark's distinguished achievement," said President Binder. "I had known several Mutch Scholars, and felt instinctively he would win. He measures up in every way."

A financial management major and a dean's list student, Hyssong is the son of the late M. Eugene Hyssong '55 and Mrs. Mary Jo Pfothauer Hyssong, a member of the Juniata music faculty from 1952-57. The Student Government treasurer, Hyssong sits on the Judicial Board and sings with the Concert Choir and the J.C. Four barbershop quartet.

Baptism Highlights Binder Alumni Travel

He hasn't caught Henry Kissinger yet, but it's not that he hasn't tried. Dr. Frederick M. Binder, in short, was on the move this year.

There will always be travel for a college president, of course—conferences, committees, evaluation teams, not to mention those development visits. It's not always easy to add alumni functions, but somehow he tacked on the miles. According to informed sources, 8000 miles, in fact, in making eight club functions from New Jersey to California and Buffalo to Arizona.

Perhaps the highlight, however, was a two-week trip to the West, which carried an added incentive. Besides a generous portion of official visits and calls, the trip involved four Alumni Club Luncheon/Dinners and a special family event.

The first dinner came in San Diego Wednesday, Feb. 15, with William R. McClelland '68 as host. The second came Friday in San Francisco, with John F. Pelan, Jr. '53 as host. A luncheon followed in Sun City, Ariz., on the 22nd, hosted by Jack E. Oller '23 and Mrs. P. M. Snider. The final dinner came on Saturday in Los Angeles, with John H. Martin, Jr. '55 at the helm.

In all, Dr. Binder visited with 100 alumni, including a special L. A. group—Harold B. Brumbaugh's "South Pacific Highlights" entourage.

The family event came the final Sunday in California. Frederick William Houts, first grandchild of Grandfather Binder and son of daughter Janet (Mrs. John W. Houts), was baptized in LaJolla.

The last was not a College function, of course, until one considers one final, Ripley-like note: some 3000 miles from College Hill, in a California Episcopal Church chosen by the parents, Rev. Benjamin V. Lavey '48 baptized young Frederick William.

Make those alumni visits 101, and move over, Henry K.

Lakso Named Assistant Dean

Dr. James J. Lakso, associate professor of economics and business administration, has been named assistant dean of academic affairs, effective July 1.

New Testament Scholar is Third Good Professor

Dr. E. Earle Ellis, a noted New Testament scholar, will become the third J. Omar Good Visiting Distinguished Professor of Evangelical Christianity at Juniata this fall.

Succeeding Dr. Chad Walsh, who held the chair for one year, Dr. Ellis has been a professor of Biblical Studies at New Brunswick (N.J.) Theological Seminary since 1962. He has also taught at Bethel Seminary, St. Paul, Minn.; Southern Baptist Seminary in Louisville; and Aurora (Ill.) College.

A prolific author, Dr. Ellis has written five books and is presently completing a sixth, a critical commentary on First Corinthians. He has also edited two volumes, contributed the Gospel of Luke to the New Century Bible, and published some 90 articles and reviews in journals, Biblical dictionaries and commentaries, and the Encyclopedia Britannica.

He has held visiting lectureships at the University of Tübingen (Germany), Drew University and Princeton Theological Seminary, having also guest lectured at some 20 institutions throughout the U.S. and Europe.

Dr. Ellis holds a B.S. degree from the University of Virginia, both an M.A. and B.D. from Wheaton (Ill.) Graduate School, and a Ph.D. from the University of Edinburgh. A Guggenheim Fellow and von Humboldt Scholar, he has done post-graduate studies at three German universities: Tübingen, Marburg and Göttingen.

The Good Professor teaches a course each academic term, takes part in seminars and panel discussions, and presents lectures of interest to the general public and college community. As time permits he is also available for off-campus lectures.

Dr. Walsh, former writer-in-residence at Beloit (Wisc.) College, had succeeded Dr. C. Samuel Calian, professor of theology at the University of Dubuque Theological Seminary, who had served in the post two years.

The Good chair was established in 1975 with a bequest from the late J. Omar Good, a Philadelphia printing executive and Juniata student of the mid-1890s.

Dr. E. Earle Ellis

Dr. Lakso, 32, will be responsible for the academic advising program and will work with graduate fellowship materials. He will oversee the work of the general education, continuing education, audio-visual and computational services directors, and will direct summer sessions.

He will also assist with commencement and convocations and with academic planning and program development. He will supervise faculty secretaries and will continue to teach economics part-time.

The new assistant dean is an honors graduate of Wittenberg University and holds M.A. and Ph.D.

(continued, page 5)

JUNIATA

JUNIATA COLLEGE BULLETIN
VOLUME LXXVI/NUMBER 5

The JUNIATA COLLEGE BULLETIN is published five times per year (October, November, December, March and June). Second Class Postage paid at Huntingdon, Pa. 16652. Send form 3579 to Juniata College, 17th and Moore Streets, Huntingdon, Pa. 16652.

The BULLETIN is designed and produced by the Offices of Public Relations and Alumni Affairs: Charles R. Pollock, editor; Debra L. Petersen '74 and Chuck Bloom, assistants; David A. Kreider '71, director of alumni affairs; Cheryl L. Curfman and Mary E. Snyder, editorial assistants.

Juniata College is an independent, privately supported, coeducational institution committed to providing a liberal arts education to qualified students regardless of sex, race, religion, creed, color or handicap. Its policies comply with the requirements of Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, and all other applicable federal, state and local statutes, regulations and guidelines.

New board members include, clockwise from upper left: Henry H. Gibbel '57, Richard L. Dodge '57, Charles R. Knox '54 and George E. Kensinger '51.

At Spring Meet

Five Elected to Board; Tentative Budget Approved

Five new members were elected, officers re-elected, and next year's tentative budget approved at the spring meeting of the Board of Trustees, held on campus May 12-13.

Three vacant board terms were filled by: Henry H. Gibbel '57 of Lititz, executive vice-president of Lititz Mutual Insurance Co.; Charles R. Knox '54 of Orchard Park, N.Y., head coach and vice president of football operations of the Buffalo Bills; and Edwin A. Malloy of Westport, Conn., president of Fred F. French Investing Co., New York City.

Gibbel will fill an unexpired term with one year remaining, while Knox and Malloy will fill full, three-year terms.

Two others were named to three-year terms as constituency representatives. Richard L. Dodge '57 of Harrisburg, owner-president of Dodge Insurance Co., had been nominated by the Alumni Association, succeeding Lillian G. Raycroft '50, State College attorney.

George E. Kensinger '51 of Martinsburg, executive director of the Appalachia Intermediate Unit 08, had been nominated by the Middle Pennsylvania District of the Church of the Brethren, succeeding Steven W. Glass '72, a graduate student at the University of Michigan.

Six incumbents were also returned to the board: Donovan R. Beachley, Sr. '21 of Hagerstown, Md.; Earl D. Croner '38 of Berlin; Charles C. Ellis '40 and Edwin L. Kennedy, both of New York City; Joseph R. Good '33 of Hollidaysburg; and Leroy S. Maxwell, Sr. '36 of Waynesboro.

The six have served 94 years, including Beachley's 33 and Good's 26.

All officers were re-elected, including Chairman C. Jewett Henry '29. Dr. Calvert N. Ellis '23, president emeritus, was re-elected vice chairman, while John W. Swigart, Sr. '30 was returned as secretary-treasurer.

In other major action, approval was given to the tentative 1978-79 College budget, which exceeds $7-million. Approval of a final budget comes at the fall meeting.

According to William R. Alexander '66, College business manager and assistant treasurer of the board, the new budget places special emphasis on faculty and staff compensation, library development, improved academic computer facilities and student financial aid, with several significant physical improvements planned. The current year's budget was almost $6.6-million.

Malloy, the only non-alumnus joining the board, is a Harvard University graduate. He is treasurer of the Tudor Foundation, a trustee and chairman of the building committee of Hebrew Union College, and vice president of the Real Estate Board of New York City.

He is also vice president of Temple Emmanuel and a director of the New Lincoln School.

Gibbel, who has served a term as alumni representative, is the third generation of Gibbel trustees dating to 1888. His father, Henry B., chaired the group.

He is also a director and officer of Lititz Mutual and Penn Charter Mutual Insurance Companies, Excess Mutual Reinsurance Co., and Farmers First Bank. He is a partner in Hershey and Gible and a trustee of Brethren Village, Neffsville. At Juniata, he has been Alumni Council president, Founders Club chairman and a member of the President's Development Council (PDC).

Knox, named by Buffalo this winter, had been the Los Angeles Ram head coach since 1973 (see March Bulletin). The NFL Coach of the Year in his first head-coaching season, he earned five consecutive divisional titles and a .771 winning percentage.

Active in fund-raising efforts for Juniata, the Boys Club of Huntingdon Beach (Calif.), the United Way and the Kidney Foundation, he was the youngest winner (in 1974) of the Alumni Achievement Award.

Dodge, another Alumni Council president and PDC member, was regional Centennial Fund chairman. He is treasurer of the Central Pennsylvania Sub-Contractors Association, a board member of Camp Swatara, and a deacon of the First Church of the Brethren.

Kensinger has served with the IU since 1971, assuming the executive directorship in 1974. He earlier taught mathematics, was assistant superintendent for the Blair County Schools, and was superintendent in Claysburg (Greenfield Kimmel).

A former secretary of the Pennsylvania Association of School Administrators, he holds the M.Ed. degree from the Pennsylvania State University.

AROUND CAMPUS WITH FACULTY AND STAFF

■ Ten faculty members were advanced in rank at the spring meeting of the Board of Trustees, including four promoted to full professor. The latter were DRS. ROBERT L. FISHER and JAMES L. GOOCH, biology; DR. ERNEST H. POST, history; and DR. JOSE C. NIETO, religion.

Advanced to associate professor were DRS. HENRY G. MASTERS and DALE E. WRIGHT, psychology; ALEXANDER T. McBRIDE, art; and DR. THOMAS W. WOODROW '58, education. In addition, SUSAN N. SEIDER, education, and IBROOK TOWER, music, were promoted to assistant professor.

■ The REV. M. ANDREW MURRAY, campus minister and chairman of the Peace and Conflict Studies Committee, is studying for two months this summer in India. He is one of 20 persons selected for a program funded by the Fulbright-Hayes Act.

During spring break, Rev. Murray was also in Nashville, Tenn., to produce with wife Terry their second record album.

■ Two associate directors of admissions, GAYLE W. KREIDER '68 and NANCY R. DAVIS '65, were honored by the College's women students at the annual May Day Breakfast. The two were recognized as outstanding women alumni.

■ MS. DAVIS also served on the planning committee for the annual conference of the Pennsylvania Association of College Admissions Counselors, where DR. DONALD T. HARTMAN, dean of academic affairs, was a panelist on student retention and WILLIAM B. MARTIN '59, director of career planning and placement, presented a how-to session, "Is There Life After College?"

■ More than 30 faculty, administration and staff members participated in a faculty-produced All Class Night presentation, the first in the event's 41-year history. D. BRUCE DAVIS '65, assistant professor of English, directed and wrote the non-competing production. The Sophomore Class won the competition.

■ WILLIAM C. VOCKE, assistant professor of political science, chaired one panel, "Religion and Foreign Policy," and participated in a second, "Emerging Dimensions of U.S. Foreign Policy," at the International Studies Association's February meeting in Washington, D.C. In April he presented a paper, "Detente: The Cold War Renamed?", to the International Peace Science Association in Florida.

■ ELIZABETH C. O'CONNELL, associate dean of student services, participated in the Small College Issues Panel at the National Association of Student Personnel Administrators Conference in Kansas City in April. She spoke about the alcohol education program developed at Juniata.

AROUND CAMPUS WITH STUDENTS

■ C. TODD KULP has been re-elected Student Government president for the 1978-79 academic year. A sophomore from New Britain, Kulp will be the first student to serve two successive terms. WILLIAM BLOSE '80 of Lititz will be the new vice president.

In other spring balloting, ERIC SCHWAB '79 of Newtown was elected chairperson of the College Center Board; PHILIP JONES '80 of Metuchen, N.J., vice chairperson; and THECLA COPPOLO '79 of St. Marys, secretary.

■ WENDY JACOBUS '78, a pre-law major from Bellwood, was named the "Juniata Woman of the Year" at the 1978 May Day Breakfast. In all, 18 students were recognized for cordiality and poise, achievement in several fields, service, self-determination and responsibility. GEORGE RUNG '78, Salisbury, N.C., was the "Juniata Man of the Year" and the court consisted of eight other senior men and eight other women from all classes.

■ Twenty-one juniors and seniors were recognized for academic achievement, leadership and citizenship at the May 3 annual Awards Convocation.

Seniors were: BETH SOLLENBERGER, Everett, Baker Peace Studies Book Award; MARK WOYNER, Blackwood, N.J., Charles M. Rice Accounting Prize and the Pennsylvania Institute of Certified Public Accountants Wall Plaque; MS. JACOBUS, Justina Marstella Langdon Prize; LAURANNE VAN WRIGHT, Belleville, William S. Price Social Science Prize; AUDREY SEASHOLTZ, Wyomissing Hills, Wilbur W. Oaks Prize in biology; CLAIRE SWAVELY, Royersford, Raymond R. Day Social Science Prize; JAY GRAYBEAL, Hampstead, Md., Dr. E. J. Stackpole Prize; ELIZABETH GONGLEWSKI, New Cumberland, John R. and Emma G. Wald Humanities Prize; and ROBERT ARMSTRONG and JEFFREY BLOSS, Malvern, KAY

Among several May graduates boasting alumni parents, Gail Zimmerman claimed two: Shirley (Nell '52) and Trustee Fran Zimmerman '54 of North Wales.

DELLINGER and PAM JULIUS, York, and D. STEVE HENCH, Harrisburg, Andrew B. and Maria F. Brumbaugh Science Prizes.

Juniors were: VALERIE DOVE, Clinton, Md., Victor Kamkin Book Award for Russian area studies; JOHN M. WILSON, Dow-Jones Company Wall Street Journal Award; and four winners of Charles C. Ellis Memorial Scholarships for scholarship and citizenship: CYNTHIA BENNETT, Boalsburg; BRAD GODSHALL, Souderton; RICKY MACKAY, Chambersburg; and KATHLEEN SMITH, Lewistown.

■ More than $1,200 was collected through the 1978 "Meal for CROP" at Juniata, which fights world hunger through the Church of Christ. THOMAS D. LONGER '78 of Huntingdon, project coordinator and a campus ministry intern, reported that some 90 percent of the College's resident students volunteered to give up their May 2 evening meals, and that several hundred Huntingdon residents bought meal tickets.

Spring Wrap-Up

Diamondmen Set Victory Mark; Hurdler Shines

Though the fanfare will come next fall, this spring marked the diamond jubilee of intercollegiate sports at Juniata. It all began with a 1903 track meet with Susquehanna, but its June 5 date didn't quite make the past academic year.

That didn't seem to bother several Indians, however, as they launched their own fireworks this season. When the rockets died down, history had been made quite a number of times.

BASEBALL (14-9-1)

Bill Berrier's nine staged the greatest pre-celebration, setting three Indian baseball records and adding a diamond "first." In their final game of the regular season, they eclipsed a total-victory standard first set in 1922 (at 13-6) and equalled in 1930 (at 13-2).

Earlier, they had tied the consecutive-victory mark, set at 11 in 1930, and established a new unbeaten streak, 12. To cap it all, they earned Juniata's first bid to the NCAA Division III Mideast Regionals, a six-team event they hosted May 25-28.

They bowed out in two games in the Regionals, their first defeat coming at the hands of Marietta, the two-time champ and the national runner-up. Their berth did mark, however, just the second for an Indian team in Division III post-season play, the first having come in 1973 football.

Sophomore Chris Lyons, a designated hitter, led the offense largely responsible for the record-breaking year. Also 3-2 as a pitcher, he finished with a flourish at the plate, batting .533 for the last eight regular-season games.

He led the team at .369 on the year, outpointing an all-senior outfield: Mike Morgan in right (.367), Dick Smith in left (.351) and Tom Gibboney (.337). Lyons also led in slugging percentage (.643), Smith in homers (4) and rbi (29), and Morgan in runs (37). Morgan finished four years hitting .335.

As a team the Tribe hit an even .300, up 23 points from last year, when it finished 12-8-1. It also averaged 7.6 runs per game, up 2.3.

Chris Lyons '80 puts Indians in front en route to record 14 victories.

On the mound, senior righthander Elmer Levengood led all regulars in ERA (5.05), victories (5-4) and strikeouts (27). Sophomore southpaw Pat Daly (3-2-1) completed four of six starts.

TRACK (5-1)

While Dean Rossi's squad racked up its third straight one-loss season (its eighth straight winning effort) and jumped a hefty 10 places (to fifth) at the MACs, it was junior hurdler Bob McNelly who made Indian history—again.

With a 53.96 in winning the MACs, McNelly set a school record in the 440 intermediates, clipping .34 seconds from the mark he had shared with Joe Coradetti '73. He also remained the only individual from Juniata to earn a berth in NCAA post-season competition, repeating his 1976 trip to the Division III nationals.

He failed to reach the NCAA finals, but did warm up with another Tribe record at the Pitt Invitational—53.5 at 400 meters, the NCAA distance. In Division III competition, "Big Mac" remains once-beaten at 440 yards, winning all 12 dual-meet races and losing only a photo finish at the 1976 MACs. He did not run last year.

In dual-meet scoring, McNelly finished second to junior Dave Robison, who captured his third straight title this spring. Robison picked up 11 individual wins, four each in the 100 and long jump and three in the 220, and six relay victories. Sophomore sprinter Mike Miller was third.

All three also ran on the Indian 440 relay team which finished fourth at the MACs. Other MAC scoring came from freshman Dave Headly, fourth in the discus and shot; soph Eric Bollinger, fifth in the discus; and freshman Dick Shanaman, sixth in the pole vault. The team's showing was its best since winning the conference title in 1973.

GOLF (3-6)

The linksmen ended Bill Germann's final season with a disappointing record, but did perform well at the MACs, where their seventh place among 19 teams was their best since 1972. Senior Dean Miller, seventh individually, logged Juniata's best solo effort since Ray Erney's 1962 fifth.

Miller's 82-79-161 was six strokes off the medalist pace and marked the fourth time he had led the Indians this season. He was edged in yearly average, however, by a sophomore with a name more suggestive of tennis. Wayne Forehand used 80.6 strokes per round to Miller's 80.8, while two seniors—Doug Garner and Al Weyant—followed at 82.8 and 83.4.

Germann, who also steps down as Indian trainer, turns in a 25-year career record of 120-131-1. His teams won the 1954 MAC title and finished second in 1960 and 1972.

MEN'S TENNIS (4-6)

Senior captain Dave Shober compiled the best singles record and the only .500 doubles mark as the Indians dropped their last five matches. On the year the Tribe played winning singles (31-28), but finished 9-20 in doubles.

Shober was 8-2 in singles, going 7-2 at third, and 5-5 in doubles at all positions. Two juniors also had winning records: captain-elect Greg Norton, 5-4 at second; and Scott Van Der Beck, 5-3 at primarily sixth. At first singles, senior Gary Van Hartogh was 3-7.

WOMEN'S TENNIS (1-6)

The women also dropped their final five, playing all season without a senior. Six sophomores, three juniors and a freshman finished 8-43 in individual matches, two sophs earning all five singles wins.

Babe Broadwell and Cindy Updegraff, also 1-5 as the Tribe's first doubles team, were 2-3 and 3-4 in singles, respectively. Broadwell finished 2-0 at second, her losses coming at first, while Updegraff finished 2-2 at second and 1-0 at third.

Grid Captains Set

Four players, including one junior, have been named captains of the 1978 Juniata football team.

New senior captains will be Jeff Herrman, offensive tackle from Pittsburgh; Gary Lyter, fullback out of Lewistown; and Mike Stone, cornerback from Bloomsburg.

Junior Larry Shepard, a linebacker from Kittanning, will be the 15th underclass captain chosen in 56 years of Indian football.

The Indians will open their nine-game season—the silver anniversary of the College's first unbeaten year—September 16 at Westminster, two-time defending national champion in the NAIA Division II.

Spring Sports Scoreboard

Baseball (14-9-1)
5	Shippensburg	18
4	Elizabethtown*	12
9	Elizabethtown*	21
9	Susquehanna*	8
1	Susquehanna*	1
8	St. Francis	2
16	St. Francis	5
10	Capitol Campus	3
15	Capitol Campus	9
7	Western Maryland	5
16	Messiah	6
4	Albright*	3
11	Albright*	7
9	Gettysburg	3
13	Bucknell	9
4	Wilkes*	7
5	Wilkes*	15
7	Penn State	12
11	Lock Haven	4
7	Lock Haven	1
2	Pitt-Johnstown	3
6	Pitt-Johnstown	2
2	Marietta†	5
2	Wilkes†	8

* MAC North-West Section (3-4-1)
† NCAA Division III Mideast Regional (0-2)

Track (5-1)
93½	Susquehanna	51½
15	Shippensburg	130
110	St. Francis	23
91	Albright	53
106	Lycoming	29
81	Dickinson	63

5th MAC Championships

Golf (3-6)
418	Lock Haven	415
402	Shippensburg	389
402	Lycoming	429
413	Dickinson	396
413	Elizabethtown	428
404	Gettysburg	378
409	Wilkes	392
409	Albright	423
399	Susquehanna	394
7th MAC Chamionships

Men's Tennis (4-6)
9	Wilkes*	0
2	Elizabethtown*	6
5	Western Maryland	4
6	Lycoming*	3
8	Lebanon Valley	1
0	Gettysburg	9
2	Albright*	7
2	Lock Haven	6
4	Dickinson	5
2	Shippensburg	7

* MAC North-West Section (2-2)

Women's Tennis (1-6)
1	Shippensburg	6
4	St. Francis	3
0	Susquehanna	7
0	Penn State-Altoona	9
1	Dickinson	6
2	Penn State-Altoona	7
0	Bucknell	5

Gibboney, Bechtel
Take Top Awards;
Four Repeat as
Alumni Winners

Sixteen Juniata athletes, including four who captured their second Alumni Awards, were honored at the Annual Awards Convocation in May.

Tom Gibboney, who lettered five times in football and baseball, and Janet Bechtel, who captained both her basketball and field hockey teams, captured the highest honors. Gibboney, a Huntingdon native, received the 32nd Stanford Mickle Award, given to a senior man. Bechtel, from Hammond, Ind., received the second Charles Bargerstock Award, given to a senior woman.

Gibboney, who transferred to Juniata as a sophomore, twice started at end in football, leading the team in receiving and scoring last fall. In baseball, he started three years in the outfield, hitting .279.

Bechtel lettered three times as a field hockey wing, scoring five goals. A three-year starter as a basketball guard, she was Juniata's fourth-leading career scorer with 272 points, 4.9 per game. Both Gibboney and Bechtel were also active in intramural sports.

Scott Magley captured the third major honor, the John E. Blood Memorial Award, which goes to the senior who has earned four varsity letters and the highest academic average. A pre-med major and four-year starter at quarterback and safety in football, Magley had compiled a 2.04 average out of a possible 3.0. The Ebensburg native was accepted last year by Jefferson Medical College.

Thirteen others were honored with Alumni Awards in 12 varsity sports. The repeaters were senior basketball captains Tay Waltenbaugh, Tarentum, and Jan Edgar, Royersford; senior tennis captain Dave Shober, Ephrata; and junior hurdler Bob McNelly, Somerset.

Listed by sport with donor, all winners of Alumni Awards were:

Football lineman, Larry Shepard '80, Kittanning

Tom Gibboney '78

Janet Bechtel '78

(George L. Weber '40); Football back, Bob Devine '78, Monroeville (Dr. J. Harold Engle '23); Cross Country, Joe Guth '81, Morganville, N.J. (C. Clifford Brown '29); Field Hockey, Nancy Osborne '79, Aston (Thomas B. Robinson '66); Volleyball, Priscilla Grove '78, Altoona (William F. Berrier '60); Men's Basketball, Waltenbaugh (Jack E. Oller '23); Women's Basketball, Edgar (Gayle '68 and David Kreider '71); Wrestling, Joe Paskill '80, Hatfield, (David L. Helsel '61); Baseball, Mike Morgan '78, Altoona (Charles F. Goodale '39); Track, McNelly (J. Foster Gehrett '16); Golf, Dean Miller '78, Jeannette (C. Blair Miller '49); Men's Tennis, Shober (Dr. Calvert N. Ellis '23); Women's Tennis, Babe Broadwell, Lansdowne (J. M. Haskell '65).

Tay Is All-American

With senior Tay Waltenbaugh doing the honors, Juniata has fielded its first All-American in basketball.

The 6-7 senior from Tarentum, a transfer last year from American University, earned honorable mention on the 1978 Associated Press college-division team. Only one other player from the Middle Atlantic Conference—Scranton center Irv Johnson—was selected for the unit.

Averaging 14.9 points per game, second for the Indians, Waltenbaugh led them with 9.5 rebounds this year. He played only 15 games as a junior, but led in rebounds at 10.8 and scoring average at 18.3.

For his 38 career games, Waltenbaugh averaged 16.3 points and 10 rebounds, setting a school record for field goal percentage at .502.

Cage Guide Chosen

The Juniata Baseball Guide, 1977-78, has won a second-place, national award for the NCAA Division III and the NAIA Division II, it was announced recently by CoSIDA, the College Sports Information Directors of America.

The 44-page brochure, edited by Charles R. Pollock, director of public relations, was judged runner-up to Slippery Rock State College, the only other Pennsylvania school to earn recognition in any national division.

Fisher Honored

In another late honor for the winter season, Dr. Robert L. Fisher, veteran Indian judo coach, was named Coach of the Year by the Eastern Collegiate Judo Association. His most recent squad finished fourth in the ECJA Championships, where it won the title in 1977.

Fisher has been active in the ECJA for 10 years and presently is its vice president. His 1969 team, second in the East, was sixth in the national championships.

In another annual series, the Hon. Morris M. Terrizzi, president judge of Huntingdon County, delivered the G. Graybill Diehm Lecture in Political Science, "The Role of the Court in Sentencing and Disposition," in May.

Having practiced in Huntingdon County for almost 30 years, Judge Terrizzi was elected president judge in 1970. He is also an adjunct associate professor of criminal justice at the Pennsylvania State University.

The Peace and Conflict Studies program, in addition to its series of World Issues Luncheons, sponsored two other speakers. Dr. George B. Kistiakowsky, a major participant in the development of the first atomic bomb and former science advisor to President Dwight D. Eisenhower, spoke of "Arms Controls or Nuclear Arms Proliferation?", while Dr. David V. J. Bell, assistant professor of political science at York University, Toronto, spoke of "Ideologies and Values for the Future."

Dr. Kistiakowsky, professor emeritus of chemistry at Harvard University and former vice president of the National Academy of Sciences, was making a rare public address, citing Juniata's Peace program as his stimulus.

In the academic realm, other speakers included poet, essayist and critic Stephen Spender, oral

Fall Sports
Schedules

Football
Sept.	16	Westminster A
	23	Albright* H
	30	Gettysburg H
Oct.	7	Susquehanna* A
	14	Lycoming* H
		(Homecoming)
Nov.	21	Upsala* A
	28	Delaware Valley* H
		(Parents Weekend)
	4	Wilkes* A
	11	Ursinus H

* MAC Northern Division

Cross Country
Sept.	23	Albright H
	26	Dickinson A
	30	Gettysburg H
Oct.	3	Shippensburg A
	7	Susquehanna A
	14	St. Francis H
	18	Western Maryland & York A
Nov.	21	Messiah & Eastern Mennonite A
	28	St. Francis A
	4-5	MAC Championships A

Field Hockey
Sept.	19	Lebanon Valley A
	20	Frostburg A
Oct.	3	Shippensburg A
	7	Lycoming A
	14	Lycoming H
	19	Indiana (Pa.) H
	24	Dickinson H
Nov.	27	Susquehanna A
	4-5	MAC Championships A

Volleyball
Sept.	25	St. Francis A
	27	Susquehanna A
	29	Pitt-Johnstown H
Oct.	3	Dickinson A
	5	Penn State-Altoona A
	6-7	Washington College Tournament A
		(Washington, Cecil & St. Marys)
	12	Bucknell H
	17	Messiah H
Nov.	23	Gettysburg & St. Francis H
	25	Penn State-Altoona H
	31	Pitt-Johnstown A
	4-5	MAC Championships A

Kodak Research Head
Headlines Long
Speakers List

Dr. Bryant W. Rossiter, director of the chemistry division of Eastman Kodak Research Laboratories, delivered the 1978 Will Judy Lecture to headline an impressive speakers' lineup at Juniata this spring.

Also a leader in the Mormon church, Dr. Rossiter spoke of "The Convergence of Truth from Science and Religion" in his main address April 26. He made three additional appearances the following day, including a World Issues Luncheon address, "Applying Chemical Research to World Needs."

Dr. Rossiter, a leading representative of United States chemistry and chemical engineering interests in the international scientific arena, is co-editor of "Physical Methods of Chemistry," an 11-volume reference work. He has served with Kodak since 1957 and has been involved in the development of many major Kodak products, primarily in the field of photography.

With the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints, he is regional representative of the Quorum of the Twelve Apostles.

interpreter Wallace A. Bacon, and Dr. Walter R. Hovey of the University of Pittsburgh's Frick Fine Arts Department. Both Bacon and Spender appeared through the College's Edith B. Wertz Endowment.

In the more popular vein, speakers included Pat Paulsen, humorist and two-time presidential candidate; Jeremy Rifkin, author of the acclaimed book about genetic engineering, Who Should Play God?; and Flora Rheta Schreiber, author of the best-seller, Sybil.

Lakso . . .

(continued from page 2)

degrees from the University of Maryland. He joined the faculty in 1970 and has served as department chairman, assistant dean for the social sciences and director of summer sessions. He had earlier been an economic consultant to the U.S. Department of Transportation.

Henry, McDowell Take Service, Achievement Awards at Luncheon

C. Jewett Henry '29 and Kenneth E. McDowell '38 were honored with the 1978 Alumni Service and Achievement Awards, respectively, to highlight the annual Alumni Luncheon in Baker Refectory May 27.

Some 250 alumni, parents and guests were on hand to witness also the yearly change of alumni leadership and presentation of new awards for faculty and student service (see other stories this page).

A partner in the Huntingdon law firm of Henry, Corcelius, Gates & Gill, Henry was accorded double recognition when he received a surprise honorary degree at Sunday's Commencement ceremonies (see other story page 1).

A member of the Board of Trustees since 1959, Henry has been its chairman since 1976. He chaired its Presidential Selection Committee in 1975, and he is a past president of the National Alumni Association.

He is also past president of the J. C. Blair Memorial Hospital Board and the Huntingdon County Bar Association and has been a director of numerous organizations, including the Penn Central National Bank and Huntingdon Throwing Mills, Inc., of which he is treasurer.

A graduate of the University of Pittsburgh Law School, he has practiced in Huntingdon for 45 years. He is a member of the Pennsylvania and American Bar Associations and has been admitted to practice before the U.S. Supreme Court.

"Mr. Henry," said President Binder, "has been more than generous for many years with his leadership, expertise and financial support. He has served Juniata with distinction, both directly and by his exemplary life."

An Alexandria native, Henry is married to the former Phyllis K. Wald '33 and the couple has one son, John Jewett.

Rev. McDowell is the executive secretary for the World Ministries Commission of the Church of the Brethren and an associate general secretary for the denomination. Having assumed the post last October, he administers programs of volunteer service, peace witness, disaster relief and Brethren mission involvement on six continents.

He also supervises the church's Washington office, United Nations activities and development programs for minorities.

A Johnstown native, he received the master of divinity degree from Bethany Theological Seminary and was ordained to the ministry in 1949. After three years as pastor of the Blue Ridge (Va.) Church of the Brethren, he began his service with the Church's General Board with a five-year assignment in India. He has since served in the treasurer's office, as manager of material aid service centers, as consultant for foundations relations and community development, and as director of disaster relief.

Rev. McDowell helped develop Lafiya, a world-acclaimed community health care program in Nigeria, and the Church of the Brethren Disaster Network. In addition to supervising planning for Lafiya, which is now considered a model program by the World Health Organization, he was instrumental in negotiating a 1974 West German grant of more than $1-million.

Said Frances Clemens Nyce '46, outgoing Council president and the Maryland Representative for UNICEF, "Ken has earned the respect not only of the denomination, but of national and international leaders who relate to human needs in developing countries."

Rev. McDowell is married to the former Edythe Elizabeth Bowman '39, and the couple has four children: Robert N. '67; Susan E., who attended Juniata; David B. '74; and K. Michael.

Jewett Henry '29

Ken McDowell '38

Betty Ann Cherry

Wendy Jacobus '78

New Honors Go to Cherry, Jacobus

Elizabeth E. Cherry, associate professor of history, and Wendy A. Jacobus, a graduating senior from Bellwood, received the first Faculty and Student Service Awards from the National Alumni Association during Commencement/Reunion Weekend.

Mrs. Cherry, the former Betty Ann Ellis, was recognized as a faculty member "who has freely given time to all aspects of the college community." Nominated by her colleagues, she was chosen on the basis of participation in admissions efforts both on and off campus, contributions to the alumni program, involvement in community organizations and projects, and service to student organizations.

A College of Wooster graduate, Mrs. Cherry holds a master's degree from Columbia University. She joined the faculty in 1962 and chaired, in 1971, the College task force which developed Juniata's new academic program. She has worked diligently with the general education program and in new student recruitment.

She is a member of Huntingdon's League of Women Voters, County Historical Society and Stone Church of the Brethren, serving on the latter's administrative board and chairing its Nurture Commission.

Miss Jacobus, a pre-law major, was nominated by her classmates and chosen on the basis of "concern for the whole" and contributions to both the College and the community.

Senior class president, she was the "Juniata Woman of the Year—1978" and recently received the Justina Marsteller Langdon Prize. Listed in Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities, she was a member of the Juniata Honor Society, Barristers Club and Commission on the Quality of Campus Life.

Miss Jacobus will attend the University of Cincinnati Law School in the fall.

Coffman Assumes Council Leadership; Six Others Join

Richard C. Coffman '50, president of Huntingdon's C. H. Miller Hardware Company, was installed as president of the National Alumni Association at the May 27 annual Alumni Luncheon.

Coffman succeeds Frances Clemens Nyce '46, Maryland Representative for UNICEF, in the one-year term. Mrs. Nyce will remain on the Alumni Council executive committee for a third year. The Rev. W. Clemens Rosenberger '54, pastor of the Lititz Church of the Brethren, succeeds Coffman as Council vice president and president-elect.

Associated with Miller Hardware for more than 30 years, Coffman was appointed to his current post in 1972, having previously served as assistant treasurer, treasurer, executive vice president and general manager. He is a past president of Huntingdon Business and Industry and is treasurer of the Huntingdon County Thrift Corporation.

A member of Juniata's President's Development Council, he has chaired the Annual Support Fund and has been an Alumni Council member.

Rev. Rosenberger has served at Lititz since 1966, having earlier spent eight years at the Westmont Church of the Brethren in Johnstown. He holds the master of divinity degree from Bethany Theological Seminary and has studied at the Chicago and Harvard Divinity Schools and Pittsburgh and Princeton Theological Seminaries.

He has served on the Church's Central Committee and has been a member of two District Boards of Administration. He is a past chaplain of the Johnstown City Council and has been president of the Lititz, Lancaster County and Greater Johnstown Ministeriums.

In other alumni leadership changes, Richard L. Dodge '57 succeeds Lillian G. Raycroft '50 as an alumni trustee (see other story this issue) and six new members-at-large have been added to Alumni Council. Also, Dodge leaves the executive committee after serving as vice president, president and past president since 1975.

New members-at-large, elected to three-year terms in nationwide balloting this spring, are Charles E. Kensinger '72 of Martinsburg, an elementary school teacher in the Spring Cove School District; C. William Lafe '59 of Pittsburgh, assistant director of the Howard Heinz Endowment; and Dr. Barry B. Moore '63 of Camp Hill, a neurological surgeon.

Also, J. Donald Pheasant '56 of Perrysburg, Ohio, controller for the Interiors Marketing Division of Owens Corning Fiberglas; Garry L. Pote '68 of New Canaan, Conn., first vice president of Bache Halsey Stuart Shields, Inc.; and Janet Holcomb Utts '44 of East Aurora, N.Y., a library media specialist in the Union Free School District.

Alumni completing Council terms are Donald J. Coughenour '59 of Morristown, N.J., John M. Cramer '63 of Pittsburgh, Jane Brumbaugh Gough '60 of Upper Marlboro, Md., Michael H. Long '71 of Huntingdon, Thelma E. Morse '29 of Bedford and James J. Warfield '66 of New York City.

Richard C. Coffman '50 accepts the symbol of his new office from outgoing Alumni Council President Frances Clemens Nyce '46.

At left, Requiem soloists Anne Hench '71 and Glenn Billingsley '71 (seated). Above, the entire ensemble of 140 voices and the State College Symphony Orchestra.

Alumni Prominent in Requiem Success

Two alumni—Glenn K. Billingsley '71 and Anne Hench '71, both of Philadelphia—were instrumental in the latest commencement concert success by the Juniata music department, Johannes Brahms' The German Requiem.

Billingsley sang the baritone solo, Dr. Hench the soprano solo. Ibrook Tower, instructor in music and director of instrumental ensembles, conducted the Friday and Saturday performances, which also featured the 140-voice Choral Union and the 50-piece State College Symphony Orchestra.

Bruce A. Hirsch, associate professor of music, was unable to conduct due to illness, but did produce the program.

The Choral Union, composed of students, faculty members and area friends of the College, also included some 25 alumni, several of whom were among representatives of 12 churches in the Middle Pennsylvania District of the Church of the Brethren.

In addition to financially supporting the program, the District provided choristers from Bedford, Curryville, Everett, Hollidaysburg, Stone Church (Huntingdon), Martinsburg Memorial, New Enterprise, Pine Glen, Roaring Spring First Church, Snake Spring Valley, Spring Run and Woodbury.

Dr. Hench, who received the M.D. degree from Jefferson Medical College in 1975, is presently completing a residency in pediatrics at Thomas Jefferson University Hospital. Now singing with the First Methodist Church Choir in Germantown, she has appeared as soloist with the Philadelphia Oratorio Choir, with the Thomas Jefferson University Choir, and in a 1974 New York concert of Renaissance English music.

Most recently, she participated in the 1977 Baltimore Opera auditions.

Billingsley, her husband, left a full-time position in manufacturing last fall to pursue a singing career. With a master of sacred music degree from Union Theological Seminary, he presently sings with two highly acclaimed professional choirs, the Pennsylvania Pro Musica and the Philadelphia Singers.

His recent solo work has included roles in Amahl and the Night Visitors and the St. Matthew Passion and bass solos in the Faure Requiem and Haydn's The Creation. Most recently, he appeared in the Pennsylvania Ballet presentation of Carmina Burana, which ran for 13 performances in Philadelphia's Shubert Theatre.

Lindback is new

Two Receive Teaching Awards

For the first time, Juniata honored two outstanding faculty members at Commencement this year with the 11th annual Beachley Distinguished Professor Award and the new Lindback Award for Distinguished Teaching.

Charles W. Wise, assistant professor of economics and business administration, received the Lindback honor, while Dr. Paul D. Schettler, Jr., the Jacob H. and Rachel J. Brumbaugh Professor of Chemistry, captured the Beachley prize.

Funded by the Christian R. and Mary F. Lindback Foundation of Philadelphia, the Lindback provides a $500 stipend. Selection, made by President Binder with faculty committee assistance, was based on contributions to the total educational program of the College and outstanding work by a faculty member who has served for seven years or less.

The Beachley Award, established by Donovan R. Beachley, Sr. '21 and Mr. and Mrs. Donovan R. Beachley, Jr. '47, all of Hagerstown, Md., provides a $1500 stipend. Nominations are invited from students, faculty, administration, alumni and trustees, and selection is made by the president, academic dean, Student Government president and three most recent recipients.

Selection is based on years of service, contributions to one's department and the College as a whole, teaching effectiveness, scholarly activity and service beyond the campus.

In announcing Wise's selection, Dr. Binder cited his "seemingly unlimited energy, concern and intelligence. He has given of himself tirelessly to developing departmental programs, committee service, and Juniata's liberal arts goals."

A 1969 Ohio University graduate, Wise holds an M.B.A. degree from the University of Pittsburgh. Now department chairman, he joined the faculty in 1973, having spent three years in the personnel department of PPG Industries, Pittsburgh.

Dr. Schettler joined the faculty in 1967 after a year's internship at Antioch College. He chairs his department and is involved in the development of the general education program.

A high honors graduate of the University of Utah (1958), he holds a Ph.D. in physical chemistry from Yale University. He has also studied on sabbatical leave at Catholic University, Lille, France, helping to establish a unique exchange program for Juniata juniors and students at the University and Polytechnique of Lille.

He has been director of several National Science Foundation Undergraduate Research Participation Grants and NSF Instructional Scientific Equipment Programs, and is presently the principal investigator on a project exploring hydrocarbon (natural gas) and shale interaction.

Left to right, Beachley Winner Dr. Schettler, Academic Dean Dr. Donald T. Hartman, and Lindback Winner Wise.

The Deferred Giving program has been, for many years, an essential part of Juniata's ongoing development effort. As shown by the following excerpts from my 1977-78 report, many alumni and friends have participated:

"I have welcomed the opportunity to work in Juniata's behalf and to seek means of assuring the College's financial vigor needed for educational soundness . . .

We continue to direct our efforts in deferred giving chiefly among older alumni and friends. These persons are most likely to be able, interested and responsive where estate planning is concerned.

We continue to use the Newkirk program, consisting each year of four newsletters, the Juniata Builder. These provide our friends with estate planning information and, at the same time, interpret Juniata's needs for generous giving. Booklets such as Planned Income Tax Saving, Trusts for Family and Education, Planning for Retirement and Planning for Executives and Professionals also have been provided upon request.

In addition, we have endeavored to invite a favorable response through a column appearing in each issue of the Juniata Bulletin. We are also glad to provide free upon request such pamphlets as those by Conrad Teitell, Esq., e.g., The Charitable Gift Annuity, The Life Income Contract Through a Pooled Income Gift, Making Your Will and Charitable Remainder Unitrusts.

In recent months (July 1, 1977 to present), Juniata has received nine bequests having a combined value of $91,319. They are to be used, as benefactors have specified, mainly as additions to restricted or general endowment. We have reason to be grateful to each person from whose largess Juniata has been strengthened.

It is also encouraging to note in this regard that during the past year, two good friends of Juniata have placed Juniata in their joint wills for the generous amount of $100,000. As yet, they do not wish to be identified publicly, but we have welcomed the opportunity to thank them for their earnest expression of concern for Juniata's future capacity to meet the needs of promising young people.

The following is a brief review of the gift annuity fund, beginning on July 1, 1976. At that time, the fund had a combined face value of $611,054. Thirty-seven persons or pairs were participating in the fund, with a total of 97 agreements in force. Fiscal 1976-77 saw the death of four participants holding 15 agreements with a face value of $116,872. This amount, adjusted to book value, became available for general or specified purposes, according to donor requests. As of June 30, then, the face value of the gift annuity fund stood at $494,182, representing 33 persons and 82 agreements.

From last July 1 to present, there has been a gain of $23,500, representing holdings of four new participants and five new agreements. Also, three participants holding four agreements have died, with the result that $68,268 became available for College purposes as designated by the donors. As of April 15, therefore, the account's face value was $449,414, held by 34 persons through 83 agreements. In addition, one deferred payment gift annuity has an initial value of $10,000, with income being accumulated to create a higher book value.

Our third important area of deferred giving consideration is the pooled income fund, established in 1971. Juniata's fund has grown in a very healthy way, with 23 persons (or pairs of persons) holding 49 separate accounts with a total market value (April 1) of $826,661. In the fiscal year beginning last July, three additional accounts have been established, two of them by a single individual, by two previous participants in the fund. There will be, it is hoped, substantial improvement in the investment picture, with more people desiring to help Juniata and finding it doubly advantageous to do so. This dual advantage is to aid Juniata substantially while engaging in a lifetime investment for the benefit of the donor and/or members of his or her family.

Perhaps the most important contribution of all is among persons who are already substantial contributors. Recently, in visiting with a loyal and very generous alumnus who lives at a distance from Huntingdon, and whom I had not seen for two years, he mentioned that he now believes that his total commitment to Juniata will amount to some $100,000 or more, instead of the $60,000 he had previously assured. Here is an excellent example of the satisfaction one experiences as he or she gives out of dedication and thankfulness directed toward Juniata.

Perhaps on the sentimental side, I should like to close by saying that I had an opportunity some months ago to call on an older alumna, a woman of very great distinction in her professional field. Not at all strong physically, she was still immensely alert and extremely interested in Juniata. I had barely returned to the office when I received a letter that enclosed a check, which represented not a large, but nevertheless generous, gift. Her letter closed with a heart-warming sentence, 'We share a deep love of Juniata.' "

Please call on me as a fellow Juniatian who will be glad to suggest steps leading to the dual benefits others have enjoyed. I refer to the various means by which you may know the joy of aiding Juniata while gaining the benefit of a helpful, lifetime investment. For example, you may want to start with a charitable gift annuity and then, if you find the experience rewarding, to go on to participate in a life income contract or unitrust. An annuity can be established for as little as $1,000 and the quarterly income will begin immediately. Note also both the immediate and continuing federal income tax benefits. We shall be glad to explore, without obligation, variations of deferred gifts most responsive to your needs. Write me at the College or call 814-643-4310.

Cordially yours,
John N. Stauffer
President Emeritus

Large Bequests Left by Alumni

In recent months Juniata alumni have left two major bequests to the College.

The late Mrs. Mary Boring Hess, who had studied at the Academy through 1909, died in Sebring, Fla., last March, leaving the College $15,000. The major portion establishes the Samuel M. and Mary B. Hess Memorial Endowment Fund. The remainder honors Mrs. Hess' late father, J. B. Boring, an 1880 graduate.

A charter member of the Juniata Women's League, Mrs. Hess was also a co-founder of the Florida Alumni Club. Mr. Hess, a 1906 Academy graduate, served for 40 years on the Juniata Board of Trustees, chairing for 30 its Property and Grounds Committee. He preceded Mrs. Hess in death.

Through the second bequest, from the late Elizabeth Smith Steele, formerly of McVeytown, Juniata has established the Dr. and Mrs. Robert Steele Scholarship for graduates of the Mifflin County high school serving McVeytown and Bratton and Oliver Townships, currently Rothrock.

First preference will be given to pre-medical students or other science majors, second to any deserving student from the high school. Selection will be based on academic merit, financial need and character, and some $2000 will be available to qualified students each year.

Mrs. Steele, who attended Juniata in the summers of 1927-28, died in 1972. Dr. Steele, who preceded his wife in death, was a pre-medical student from 1926-29.

Breaking ground for the new humanities center (left to right): President Binder; Trustee Dale W. Detwiler of the Buildings and Grounds Committee; Dr. Kenneth W. Crosby, Long Professor of History and senior humanities faculty member; Foster G. Ulrich, Jr., vice president for development; and Trustee Chairman C. Jewett Henry '29.

Humanities Center Campaign Completed; Construction Begun

With construction set to begin this month, Juniata has successfully completed its $400,000 humanities center development effort, it was jointly announced by President Binder and the Board of Trustees in April.

According to Dr. Binder, the College met its Kresge Foundation challenge—worth $75,000 from the Troy, Mich., organization—by raising the remaining $325,000 in the six months prior to April 15. The College received an additional $17,000, Dr. Binder noted, for a campaign total of more than $417,000.

Two other major gifts in the effort came from The Pew Memorial Trust of Philadelphia and the Charles A. Frueauff Foundation, Inc., of New York City, each contributing $25,000.

Alumni added more than $123,000, while the Board added some $64,000.

The construction contract has been awarded to Allensville Planing Mill, the low bidder at $385,000. Related fees and expenses, including contingency, bring the total project cost to $416,000.

The humanities center, to be located on the site of the recently-raised Oller House (also known as the home management building), will be the focal point of the new "Humanities Cluster." The latter also involves the five existing buildings on 17th Street between Mifflin and Moore Streets.

Renovation of the latter, begun in October, should be completed this summer, Dr. Binder adds. The $200,000 for the renovation, refurbishing and landscaping of the Cluster was raised last year.

The center will be a two-story, Georgian-style structure housing several seminar rooms, some dozen faculty offices and a lounge area. A courtyard will be situated behind the building.

1917

DR. JOHN C. BAKER, president emeritus of Ohio University and past chairman of the Juniata Board of Trustees, was the featured speaker at the May 11 Honor Society Dinner, which included the induction of 32 new undergraduate members.

1931

EULA GUTHRIE FYOCK celebrated her 40th year as secretary-treasurer of the Central Pennsylvania Alumni Club at the group's April 1 meeting. In a letter of thanks from President Binder, which offered "sincere congratulations and best wishes for many more years of service," her term was cited as "a truly outstanding accomplishment, one which should not go unnoticed." The letter continued, "The College is extremely fortunate to have dedicated persons like yourself to provide leadership for the betterment of Juniata."

THOMAS H. KNEPP has retired as head of the science department at the Stroudsburg Area High School. His Beginning Botany, a textbook for general and non-technical high school courses, was published by J. Weston Walch, Portland, Me., in October.

1932

MORLEY J. MAYS has received an honorary Doctor of Laws degree from Elizabethtown College, from which he retired as president last year. Dr. Mays is presently acting president of Albright College.

1935

REV. FRANCIS DERICK has retired after 27 years in the ministry in the rural church field in Illinois and Missouri.

MARY McCREARY OHL retired in 1976 after 32 years of teaching in the Lower Merion School District. She is serving as a librarian for the Lower Merion Historical Society. "That plus church activities," she reports, "and being able to enjoy time is delightful!"

1937

SARA MOTT CLARK retired in September after 16 years as a home economics teacher in the Punxsutawney Area Junior High School. She travelled to Nova Scotia in October and spent January and February motor-home touring points of interest in Florida.

1938

ROBERT E. JENKINS has retired after 30 years as a special agent for the Federal Bureau of Investigation. He began his career in Knoxville, Tenn., and later served in Mexico, Mo., Kingston, N.Y., and Philadelphia. He often served as an instructor in handling firearms and police procedures for the FBI National Police Academy and local police officers. He holds a master's degree from the Pennsylvania State University.

1939

REV. DR. THOMAS D. GARNER, a Huntingdon native, was installed March 11 as pastor of the Friend's Cove Charge, United Church of Christ, Bedford County. "Bedford always seemed like my second home and I'm glad to be back," he remarked.

1940

DR. GEORGE R. WALTER terminated his duties as Johnstown's public-works director on April 21. He had served in the office on a temporary basis since January. Professor of sociology at the University of Pittsburgh at Johnstown, Dr. Walter left the city position citing professional commitments.

1944

J. HENRY EISENHART, president of the Pennsylvania State Education Association (PSEA), won an overwhelming victory in balloting for the active member's seat on the Public School Employees' Retirement System Board of Directors, beginning his three-year term in January. In his campaign, Eisenhart pledged to continue PSEA's efforts to make certain the retirement fund remains solvent by insisting on sound investments.

1946

DR. EDNA COX FISHBACK has been promoted to full professor of music at Jersey City State College, effective September 1.

John Baker '17

Michael Miller '59

1949

JAMES A. GITTINGS (see October "Class Notes") returned to campus May 2 to offer an address, "Old Time Religion in New Style Revolution," in conjunction with Juniata's "Meal for CROP." Jim is completing a study leave from A.D. magazine, of which he is United Presbyterian editor, which has involved Christian dissidents throughout the world, and has now visited 34 nations.

In other updates on Jim, his fifth book, Bread, Meat and Raisins, was published last year, and his articles and poetry have now appeared in more than 40 magazines in five nations and more than 70 American newspapers. He is also founding publisher of An Asian Notebook, a Tokyo monthly of travel, business, entertainment and religion. While truly a "citizen of the world," Jim currently resides in Pottstown.

DR. WARREN F. GROFF, president of Bethany Theological Seminary, will serve as moderator of the 1979 Church of the Brethren Annual Conference in Seattle.

Beginning July 1, JOHN O. YETTER will be superintendent of the Southern Huntingdon County School District.

1953

DAVID A. BAYER is director of administration for Tracor Marine in Port Everglades, Fla. He retired as a captain from the U.S. Navy in 1975.

GEORGE A. CONDOS, senior vice president and controller of Washington National Insurance Company, Evanston, Ill., has been elected to the firm's board of directors and the board's executive committee. Mr. Condos joined Washington National Corporation, WNIC's parent company, as controller in 1970, continuing to serve in that post and as vice president today. He was elected vice president and controller of WNIC in 1974 and senior vice president in 1977. He is a Fellow of the Life Management Institute and a Chartered Life Underwriter.

DR. GALEN R. FRYINGER has been named energy systems program manager for the University of Delaware's Institute of Energy Conservation, where he will develop a method to test field monitors and analyze the cost-effectiveness of energy systems. For the past five years, he had managed energy programs for Pfizer Inc. of Groton, Conn. He had earlier worked with Arthur D. Little Inc. of Cambridge, Mass., the U.S. Army Material Command in Virginia and New Jersey, and ESB Inc. of Pennsylvania.

Dr. Frysinger, who holds a doctorate in thermodynamics from Yale University, was a Fulbright Fellow and a National Science Foundation Fellow in electrochemistry at the Max Planck Institute, West Germany. He also has done postdoctoral research in porous-flow engineering at the University of North Carolina. At Delaware, he will further develop programs to help electric utilities balance the demand on their systems. He and wife Ethel, who have seven children, plan to live in Newark.

1955

HAROLD GRAY, vice president for student life at Keuka College, Keuka Park, N.Y., has assumed the additional duties of director of career counseling and life-work planning. Gray has stated he would like to see "a much closer relationship in the areas of life-work planning, Field Period—now in its 35th year—and placement."

Gray moved to Keuka in 1970 as assistant to the president and was named vice president in 1972. He had served in the Army Security Agency through 1959, then at Washington College, Chestertown, Md. He was director of admissions and, later, dean of student affairs at Washington, serving as president of the Upper Shore Chapter of the Maryland Personnel and Guidance Association and the Potomac and Chesapeake Chapter, Association of College Admissions Counselors.

1956

REV. RONALD K. MORGAN was certified as a supervisor of clinical pastoral education in 1976.

He was certified as a chaplain and a fellow of the College of Chaplains this year.

1957

DR. PAUL J. AMASH was promoted to full professor at Marietta College in March. He joined the college's modern language department in 1969 as an associate professor.

E. E. SIMONS, of the Pennsylvania Department of Environmental Resources, was elected secretary of the Entomological Society of Pennsylvania at its 53rd annual meeting, held at Boiling Springs in October.

RICHARD O. WENGER was promoted to manager of raw materials, coke and iron-making practice and development, Bethlehem Steel Corporation, in February. Wenger joined Bethlehem Steel as a member of the 1958 loop management training program and was assigned to the coke oven division at the Steelton plant. In 1961, he was transferred to the home office as a research engineer in the coal and coke section of the research department. In 1970, he was promoted to supervisor of coal carbonization research. He advanced to coal distribution engineer, steel operations, in 1971 and was named assistant manager, coke oven practice and development, in 1976.

1959

JOANA FYOCK sang the part of Hannah in the premiere performances of the Alice Parker opera, Singer's Glenn, April 1 in Lancaster and April 2 in Souderton. She will again perform the opera July 29 in Wichita, Kan., for the Mennonite World Conference. Joan also appeared as Sister Berthe in the May Lancaster Kiwanis production of The Sound of Music.

MICHAEL H. MILLER has been appointed vice president-finance for Blaw-Knox Construction Equipment, Inc., Mattoon, Ill., a division of White Consolidated Industries, Inc. Since 1976, Mr. Miller had been assistant controller of WCI's Mansfield (Ohio) Products Co., a division of its White-Westinghouse Corporation. Earlier, he was controller of Rockwell International's Air Maze Division in Cleveland and an auditor, accountant and financial analyst with Rockwell's Boston Gear Division, Knox Glass and Bendix Aviation.

1962

DR. DAVID M. AMBROSE, associate professor of marketing at the University of Nebraska at Omaha, has won a 1978 Small Business Institute counseling award from the Small Business Administration. The national award, the first of its kind for a student in Region VII (Missouri, Kansas, Iowa and Nebraska), was presented jointly to Rodney R. Deter, a graduate student of Dave's, for a study of and their counsel to a Superior (Neb.) automobile dealership. Winners were selected from among 20,000 student-faculty teams.

Dave, who earned his doctorate from George Washington University and his M.B.A. from the University of Maryland, is also director of the Nebraska Business Development Center. He was formerly a manager for the Bell System in Washington, D.C.

GARY D. EICHMANN has been named the first golf coach at Salem County College.

NANCY SWIGART SHEDD of Petersburg was the guest speaker at the annual May Day Breakfast for 1978. Author of The Architecture of the Ancient Borough of Huntingdon, published last year, Nancy used an encounter with an historical site as metaphor in her address, which was extremely well received by the more than 260 women in attendance. Nancy is quite active in the Huntingdon County Historical Society.

1965

DR. JESSE H. WRIGHT presented research papers on the biology of depression this past year to the Society Medico and Psychologic in Paris and the World Psychiatric Association in Honolulu. A member of the faculty of medicine at the University of Louisville, he is clinical director at the Norton Psychiatric Clinic. His wife, SUSANNE (JUDY), is active as a board member of the Louisville Children's Theater.

DR. LYNN S. FICHTER has co-authored a second-edition geology textbook, Earth Minerals & Earth Processes—An Introduction, published by Burgess Publishing Co., Minneapolis, last year. Co-author was George T. Farmer of James Madison University. Lynn, reports Professor J. Peter Trexler, received his Ph.D. in vertebrate paleontology from the University of Michigan, having majored in biology and minored in geology at Juniata.

1967

JAMES S. DINGER presented a paper, "Hydrochemical Investigations in Shallow Ground Water, Las Vegas Valley, Nevada," at the annual meeting of the Alabama Academy of Sciences.

JAMES R. DONALDSON has been elected and installed as president of the American Marketing Association's northwestern Ohio chapter.

DR. LEROY D. MELL is head of the biochemistry section, heat stress division, at the Naval Medical Research Institute. Leroy and his family (wife Peggy; son Scott Alan, 6; and daughter Amy Grace, 1) recently moved to a new home in Sterling, Va. They are all looking forward to sailing on the Chesapeake Bay this summer.

ALAN R. RINGGOLD has been promoted to squad supervisor in the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

1968

MARCIA BOMBAUGH RINGGOLD has received her master of arts degree in English literature from the University of Massachusetts, and has applied for admission to Boston University's Ph.D. program. "I have a 200 Kawasaki," she reports, "on which I transport myself everywhere from March to November. Kawasaki does make the good times roll!"

HOYT D. WALTER has joined Service Electric Cable TV, Inc. as vice president. Associated with the Fidelity Bank in Philadelphia for more than nine years, he had been a vice president in the real estate division of the Corporate Department.

1970

ETHEL HELSEL HAMMER has received a master of science degree in ecology from the University of Pittsburgh and is presently an environmental planner for the Hillsborough County Planning Commission in Tampa, Fla.

DR. PAUL C. KEELY, who received the M.D. degree May 15 from the Bowman Gray School of Medicine of Wake Forest University, was one of two Juniata graduates awarded house officer appointments for 1978-79. His house officer training, arranged through the National Intern/Resident Matching Program, will be taken in What's New(s)?

Juniata is always looking for news of its alumni: promotions, degrees, job changes, honors, marriages, births, etc. Even an address change. If you fit the bill—or would like to report on a friend—please complete this form and return it to the Office of Alumni Affairs.

Name	Class
Address
City	State	Zip
Spouse's Name	Class

Item (attach additional sheet if needed):

psychiatry at North Carolina Baptist Hospital in Winston-Salem, Bowman Gray's principal teaching hospital. Stephen M. Sachs '74 was the other Juniata awarded a house officer appointment.

RONALD F. MILLER has been promoted to manager of the K-mart store in Port Jervis, N.Y.

RUSSELL F. MIZELL III, of the department of entomology, Mississippi State University, presented a research paper on the southern pine beetle at the recent Southern Branch meeting of the Entomological Society of America in Gainesville, Fla. Recognized for outstanding achievement, he also received the Mississippi Entomological Association Scholarship for 1978.

PETER A. SCHUYLER has been promoted to service technical sales representative for Hercules, Inc.

TERRY L. STEVENS is the new audit manager, Philadelphia office, for Price Waterhouse and Company.

1971

DR. NANCY STOVER KUNKEL received a Ph.D. in biology from Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, in December. Nancy is studying RNA metabolism of hemoglobin in cells derived from patients with thalassemia at the San Francisco General Hospital.

DR. CAROL MORNINGSTAR LAMPARTER will complete a residency in family medicine at the Geisinger Medical Center, Danville, June 30. She plans to practice family medicine in the Danville area. DR. PHYLLIS MORNINGSTAR, Carol's identical twin, is completing a residency in Wilmington, Del., and begins work July 1 as a full-time physician with the Big Valley Medical Center. More on the twins in a future issue.

JAMES J. MCCARTHY, city controller of Harrisburg, and MARK VAN DEN BROEK, who presently serves with the Air Force Logistics Command, returned to Juniata late in April for the third of this year's Alumni Seminars offered by the department of economics and business administration. The final program, "Management: Nonprofit Organizations," gave some 30 students—primarily upperclassmen with management interests—an overview of the area and data for career planning and academic program design.

Mark, who resides in Xenia, Ohio, presently works with embedded computer systems.

1972

ALBERT D'AMBROSIA was recently named head football coach at Kishacoquillas High School in Milroy. His wife, MARY (FRIE '73), is working at Rider Oldsmobile, Inc., in State College. The D'Ambrosias have lived in Boalsburg since the fall of 1976.

PAMELA A. HURD has been director of founding and sales for Women in Arts, a voluntary, nonprofit organization designed to promote the non-professional and professional creative woman, since last July. A January Women in Arts celebration, held at the William Penn Memorial Museum, Harrisburg, attracted the largest crowd on record at the museum.

ROBERT E. KRAUT is the new manager of Print-O-Stat, Inc., York.

RONALD A. McALPINE has been promoted to corporate systems and procedures analyst with American Motor Parts, Inc. His wife, DIANE (REKLIS), is a service representative with Pennsylvania Blue Shield.

LINDA MCGOWAN RENDINA received a master of education degree from Lehigh University in October, 1976.

TIMOTHY M. TURBETT is a microprogrammer for Data Terminal Systems in Stow, Mass.

CRAIG L. VAN ANTWERP is an assistant professor of chemistry at the Rochester (N.Y.) Institute of Technology. His wife, DONNA (RITCHIE), is a research assistant in the Department of Pharmacology, Pennwalt Corporation, Rochester.

GARY D. WARRICK is a hospital sales representative for the Upjohn Company Lab Procedures Division.

1973

ALLISON HENKE EVRARD is education coordinator for the Lehigh County Humane Society in Allentown. She speaks with children in classrooms, scout groups, etc., concerning humane treatment of animals and proper pet care.

CHARLES E. KNOUSE is a graduate student in speech and communications at Emerson College in Boston. He received his bachelor of science degree last August from the New York Regents External Degree Program.

STEVEN R. RANDALL, an employee development specialist with the Internal Revenue Service, Washington, D.C., received a master of public administration degree in organization development and theory from American University in December.

1974

SUSAN L. DORSEY conducted reading workshops at the sixth annual convention of the Maryland International Reading Association Council, held in Baltimore in March. Her workshop, "Be Nice to Mice—or Learning Activities in a Mouse Facility," focused on language arts, learning centers and games promoting reading for elementary-age children.

DR. STEVEN M. SACHS, who received the M.D. degree from the Bowman Gray School of Medicine of Wake Forest University in May, was elected in April to Alpha Omega Alpha national medical honor society. Elected on the basis of scholastic achievement and character, Sachs was one of 11 students joining the North Carolina Beta Chapter. AOA promotes scholarship and research in medical schools, encourages high character standards among students and graduates, and recognizes high attainment in medical science.

Steve was also one of two Juniata graduates awarded house officer appointments at Bowman Gray for 1978-79. Arranged through the National Intern/Resident Matching Program, Steve's postgraduate training in surgery will come at Strong Memorial Hospital, Rochester, N.Y.

1975

CYNTHIA SMITH ANDERSON recently opened a "Honey and Spice Health Foods" store in Edwardsville.

BURNETTA LEA CARLSON is working for the Continental Telephone Company in Kempton.

ROGER C. DEVONALD is a programmer/analyst for the General Electric Space Division in King of Prussia.

THOMAS A. HEFFNER, who received a master of science degree in geology from Syracuse University last October, is a development geologist for Chevron U.S.A., Inc.

JOAN STEFFNER KALNAJS has been an editorial associate for Biosciences Information Services in Philadelphia since November, 1975.

JOHN KNOUSE is the appropriate technologies resources person for the Jefferson County Energy Conservation Office in Louisville, Ky.

JUDY A. SWARTLEY is a manufacturing engineer with Honeywell, Inc. In January, she received a master of science degree in industrial engineering, with an emphasis in computer-aided manufacturing, from Lehigh University.

1976

SUSAN BLUM COLONNA was recently promoted to head teacher and director at the All Hallows Nursery School in Wyncote. She is presently working toward a master's degree in early childhood education at Temple University.

1977

SONIA K. BAHNER is a claims representative for the Social Security Administration in Pottsville.

DAVID A. CORMAN is an employment counselor for the Fulton County Youth Employment and Training Program in McConnellsburg. The CETA-funded program is designed to help youth from low and moderate income families deal with unemployment problems.

ELVIRA J. MANIGLIA is studying at Hahnemann Medical College in Philadelphia. Commissioned into the Navy under the Armed Forces Health Professions Scholarship Program in January, she will spend six weeks this summer in a research clerkship at the Toxicology Department of the Naval Medical Research Institute at Wright Patterson Air Force Base in Ohio.

NICHOLAS T. SAMA is a social studies teacher at St. Gabriel's Hall High School, a rehabilitation center for court-committed juvenile delinquent boys, in Phoenixville. He has coached football, basketball and track at St. Gabriel's and will teach summer school and work as a recreational supervisor. Nick is also pursuing a master's degree in education from St. Joseph's College in Philadelphia.

Marine First Lieutenant STEVEN C. SHULTIS has graduated from the Navy's Aviation Indoctrination Course (AIC), the first step in the training program leading to designation as a naval aviator. Having joined the Marine Corps in 1977, Shultis studied basic aerodynamics, aviation physiology, engineering, and land and sea survival techniques in the four-week AIC, offered at the Pensacola Naval Air Station.

LLOYD M. WENGER is working in the Idaho State University geology department, helping to determine the practicality of burning the methane gas dissolved in the hot brines sometimes found in petroleum exploratory drilling to produce electricity.

JOHN A. WETMORE has been accepted into the master's degree program in environmental biology at West Virginia University. He was also a graduate assistant in the biology department for the past academic year.

Former Faculty

DONALD F. DURNBAUGH (history, 1958-62) has been named editor of The Brethren Encyclopedia, a cooperative project of five Brethren bodies: Grace Brethren, Old German Baptist Brethren, Dunkard Brethren, Brethren Church and Church of the Brethren. The project will be based at Bethany Theological Seminary, where Don is professor of church history, and publication of the 3-volume work is tentatively set for 1983.

MARRIAGES

STUART I. JACKSON '77 and Amy Sue Whitsel, Dec. 10, Huntingdon.

ELLEN SNYDER '77 and CHARLES L. WALLACE '75, May 18.

HARRY "JOE" WEIMER '77 and Victoria L. Pierdominici, Sept. 17, Latrobe.

JOAN K. STEFFNER '75 and Juris Kalnajs, May 6, Warminster.

STEVEN R. RANDALL '73 and Barbara-Lucia Schneider, May 1977.

LINDA J. MCGOWAN '72 and Bryan D. Rendina, June 18, 1977.

TIMOTHY M. TURBETT '72 and Nancy Golon, June 26.

JOHN W. WAITE '69 and Rebecca Ann Speed, Feb. 25, Morristown.

PHYLLIS MARIE WALKER '44 and Virgil D. Ruble, Apr. 7.

BIRTHS

Joshua Michael, born to ELIZABETH (KOUGH) and FRANCIS M. RICHARDS '76, May 18.

Sara Elizabeth, born to JANET (GORMAN '74) and ROGER C. DEVONALD '75, Aug. 23, West Chester.

Aaron Roberts, born to FLORENCE (ROBERTS '74) and Bryan P. Corbin, June 4, 1977.

Brenda Jean, born to EUGENIA (MASLAR '74) and Kenneth Krestar, Dec. 13, Johnstown.

Michael Randolph, born to DEBRA (TROTTER '73) and Lt. Randy Blough, Jan. 4.

Jo-Anne Kristin, born to Diane and JOHN R. ENTRIKIN '73, Feb. 28.

Lynette Irene, born to SUSAN (LYTER '73) and H. Westcott Vayo, Nov. 15.

Catherine Eileen, born to MARY (WHITE '72) and OWEN J. THOMSEN '73, Feb. 3, 1977.

Patricia Lane, born to VICKIE (PARK '72) and Barry L. Dore, Apr. 17, Johnstown.

Jonas Matthews, born to SUSAN (DOBSON '72) and John Hair, Apr. 19, 1977.

Emily Jean, born to Jean and GARY D. WARRICK '72, Jan. 27.

Jarad Devan, born to PEGGY (FYOCK '71) and Aron E. Ankeny, Feb. 6.

Courtney Allison, born to LINDA (CROMIS) and RONALD E. HOOVER '71, Mar. 10.

Abby Jane, born to JANE (WALTER '71) and John Loucks, April 22.

Erin Lynne, born to SUSAN (FOLK) and KURT E. GANSAUER '70, Dec. 14.

Russell F. IV, born to Patricia and RUSSELL F. MIZELL III '70, Jan. 8.

Christopher Brent, born to VICKI (CARMAN) and VICTOR L. ROBERTS '70, Aug. 20.

Jennifer Leigh, born to LEE ANN (HUSTLER '69) and Arthur J. Beaumont, Feb. 20, Bluefield, W. Va.

FROM THE DIRECTOR

David A. Kreider '71
Director of Alumni Affairs

The 1977-78 academic year was an especially good one for alumni, both on campus and off campus. More than 1,000 alumni attended area club activities from Boston to Florida and California to Buffalo. This represents a 25% increase in alumni participation in off-campus activities for the year.

It is worth mentioning that 20 of our 21 Alumni Clubs had meetings this year. Several met more than once, with a total of 31 Club meetings. A heartfelt thanks to all the Club Presidents, who did a truly outstanding job in 1977-78.

The Central Pennsylvania Alumni Club was named the Outstanding Club of the Year by the Alumni Council. Under the leadership of President Donald K. Murdock '57, Central Pennsylvania had a spring dinner meeting with 86 persons attending; worked on its telephone campaigns, one for the Humanities Center and two for the Alumni Club-Sponsored Scholarship program; and provided valuable leadership in recommending students to our Admissions Office. Congratulations to Don, and to all Central Pennsylvania alumni.

Congratulations are also in order for the recipients of our Alumni Service Award, Att. C. Jewett Henry '29, and our Alumni Achievement Award, Rev. Kenneth E. McDowell '38. The Awards Committee of Alumni Council also recognized Elizabeth (Betty Ann Ellis) Cherry as the first recipient of the Faculty Service Award and Miss Wendy A. Jacobus '78 as the first recipient of the Senior Student Service Award. These two awards will be made annually (see story p. 6).

Class Reunions were the highlight of a fantastically beautiful weather weekend for Commencement/Reunion on College Hill. Nearly 400 alumni returned to campus to meet and greet classmates from the "Good Old Days." With that as the theme, five reunion classes were treated to an old-fashioned picnic on the Oller Hall lawn. The scene was interesting at 5:45 p.m., as not an unused piece of shade could be found for one square block.

The Classes of 1933 and 1953 were treated to a two-hour cruise on Raystown Lake on the 49-passenger Raystown Belle. The 33ers, with help from Phyllis Wald Henry and Harold B. Brumbaugh, ate their reunion dinner at the Oak Shelter, which overlooks the Seven-Point Marina. The 53ers, under the leadership of Ronald Cherry and Phyllis Link Randall, set out for the high seas with dinner on board. A good time was had by all.

In the "Anything Goes" Competition, the Class of 1953 won all the marbles, with the Class of 1948 a close second. Third place was shared by the Classes of 1943 and 1958. The unquestionable highlight was the blindfolded, figure-eight golf-cart driving competition, where the 1928 entry, Dr. Carl C. West and Arthur W. Shively, nearly descended an embankment, but were halted by the run-over foot of this writer.

In a more serious vein, one of the most significant accomplishments of the year was the computerization of alumni data. We are now able to identify easily select groups of alumni based on a myriad of information. We are constantly up-dating these records, so if we need to know anything about you that we don't already know, please send us a note and bring our records up to date.

The Annual Alumni Career Fair was again highly successful. More than 35 alumni returned to campus to talk with our students about career possibilities. It has been estimated that 800 students spoke with alumni during the 3½-hour session.

Finally, as the academic year has come to a close, we welcome some 225 new alumni into our ranks, the members of the graduating Class of 1978. We hope that your paths will cross sometime during the year.

We'll be looking for you all at Homecoming, October 14, when the football Indians will host the Warriors of Lycoming College.

Juniata College Alumni Tours 1978

(For Alumni, Parents, Students, Faculty & Friends)

PARIS CHARTER

David Kreider '71, Host Conductor
Round-trip, Air France 747. Traditional Ambassador Hotel, continental breakfast, transfers, optional touring.

One Week: July 18-25 or
Two Weeks: July 18-August 1

THE BRITISH ISLES: Two Weeks: August 24-September 7 Ireland, Scotland, Wales & England

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph R. Good '33, Host Conductors
Deluxe tour with Percival—the British Isles in Style.

THE GOLDEN AGE: Two Weeks: September 15-29 Holy Lands, Egypt, Greece

Harold Brumbaugh '33, Host Conductor
Cairo, Luxor, Amman, Jerusalem, Athens, one-day Greek Islands Cruise.

PROJECTED TOURS

Alaska with Inland Passage Cruise Two weeks: July 9, 1979

Harold Brumbaugh '33, Host Conductor

Oberammergau & the Passion Play June 30, 1980

Harold Brumbaugh '33, Host Conductor

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION:
Weimer-Oller Travel Agency, Inc.
405 Penn Street
Huntingdon, PA 16652
(814) 643-1468

or
Office of Alumni Affairs
Juniata College
Huntingdon, PA 16652
(814) 643-4310 ext. 51

Kelly Elizabeth, born to LYNN (RUMBERGER) and FRANK M. DANKANICH '69, March 30.

Matthew Justin, born to Jane and STEPHEN J. KREBS '69, Feb. 17.

Todd Thomas, born to IRENE (KELLY) '68 and Brian Guthrie, June 26, 1977.

Fletcher Bruce, born to Barbara and ROBERT J. VANYO '68, Mar. 29.

Matthew Todd, born to Sally and DON K. ARDOLINO '67, Apr. 3.

Amy Grace, born to Peggy and LEROY D. MELL '67, July 1, 1977, Bethesda, Md.

Joshua, born to MARSHA (SHULTZ) '65 and A. Jerome Yoder, June 6, 1977.

Rebecca Shoenberger, born to ANNA (DUNCAN) '64 and Emil Von Arx III, Aug. 4, Kabul, Afghanistan.

Susan Kate, born to Mary and KENNETH DUMBAULD '64, Jan. 1, 1977.

Sean Erik, born to Linda and GARY D. EICHMANN '62.

IN MEMORIAM

FLAURA M. BOWSER '04, Mar. 7.

LORENZO D. NORRIS '12.

HARRY S. BAER '15, April 7.

MARGARET KIRK JOHNSTON '15, Jan. 10.

HOMER S. BENTON '16, Jan. 24, Los Angeles.

ROSS RHINE '17, April 14, 1977. Mr. Rhine taught in Pittsburgh schools for 35 years before moving to his Valley Township home in 1956.

ORAM C. RILEY '21.

ELISABETH MYERS '24, Mar. 5, Bryn Mawr. A Huntingdon native, she was a former home economics teacher at Bala Cynwyd Junior High School in the Lower Merion School District, having taken graduate courses at the Pennsylvania State and Drexel Universities. Her survivors include a sister, Doris Myers McClure '20, widow of the late Norman McClure, past president of Ursinus College; and two nieces, Barbara McClure '51 and Elizabeth Thompson, wife of John Thompson, the British High Commissioner of New Delhi, India.

RUTH INMAN MARKER '24, Mar. 6. Mrs. Marker, a free-lance writer, had had numerous of her slogans, poems and statements used in advertisements and on radio. She received some 800 awards in various nationwide contests, and was twice named to the National Contestors All-Star Team of 10 outstanding contestors throughout the United States on the basis of wins, ethics and contributions to the contesting hobby. She had been employed by Sonotone Hearing Aid Co. and as a timekeeper for General Machine.

MARIE DeBOLT '25, June 26, 1977.

GEORGE DORMAN REARICK '26, June 29, 1977.

CAMERON H. EASTON '28, Nov. 26, Charlotte, N.C. Mr. Easton was a retired employee of the Farmers Home Administration.

GEORGE O. PFROGNER '28, May 7, 1977.

PAUL H. STEVENSON '28, Aug. 15.

EDWARD AICHELMAN '29, Mar. 13.

GLENN F. WILLIAMS '29, Feb. 9, Martinsburg. Mr. Williams was a representative of the Prudential Insurance Company and earned numerous sales awards, including the National Quality Award 24 times and the Community Service Award. He was a founder and past president of the Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults of Blair County, and was exceedingly active in service to Juniata. He had been a member of the President's Development Council since 1972; was a member of the Founders Club with his widow, Helen Wilt Williams '31; and chaired the Annual Support Fund in 1974-75.

REV. E. FREDERIC WITMER '30, Dec. 14, Jersey Shore. Rev. Witmer had been featured in the March Bulletin Class Notes section. He was "minister-at-large" and supply pastor to several area Lutheran congregations, having retired last July after 14 years with St. Matthew Church, Catawissa.

ESTHER SIPLE GIBBEL '30, January. A retired health department technician, she was a graduate of Old Central High School. She was a member of St. Luke's Episcopal Church, Mechanicsburg, where she served for 20 years as organist and choir director, and of the American Guild of Organists.

REV. FOSTER L. PANNEBAKER '33, Feb. 2. He preached for almost 40 years in the Central Pennsylvania Conference of the United Methodist Church.

RICHARD W. LINTON '34, May 5, Huntingdon. Mr. Linton had served as Huntingdon County district attorney for six years, and maintained a legal practice in Huntingdon, where he was a lifelong resident. He was a member and past president of the Huntingdon County Bar Association and a member of the Pennsylvania, American and Federal Bar Associations. He was also admitted to practice before the Pennsylvania Supreme Court and the United States Supreme Court.

He graduated from the University of Pittsburgh Law School in 1941, and was a past president of Juniata's Huntingdon County Alumni Association. He was extremely active in community, church and veterans affairs, having retired from the U.S. Army with the rank of Lt. Colonel from the Judge Advocate General Corps. His survivors include his widow, Mary Ruth Myers Linton '38, and two daughters, Martha '78 and Margaret.

Glenn Williams '29

Richard Linton '34

SUSIE E. CRIPE '35, Dec. 15, Wabash County, Ind.

DR. HAROLD T. SMITH '35, Jan. 20. He was associate minister of the Bryn Mawr Presbyterian Church, where he developed the Christian Education program in the 1950s. He was also instrumental in the formation and organization of Rosemont Presbyterian Village, and before his retirement in 1967, he chaired many committees in the Presbytery of Philadelphia. Dr. Smith served his first pastorate at the Knox Church in Toronto, and prior to moving to Bryn Mawr in 1950, he served as minister at Presbyterian churches in Alexandria and Waynesboro.

MARIAN MORTON SHIMER '39, Apr. 10, McConnellsburg.

REV. D. ALFRED REPLOGLE '42, April 24. He was pastor of the Waynesboro Church of the Brethren at the time of his death, having served the local congregation from 1954-59. He was president of the denomination's Conemaugh Valley Ministerium in 1956 and moderator of the Western Pennsylvania District in 1957-58. He was also pastor of the Salem church near Dayton, Ohio.

MARGARET ROBINSON GLICK '63, Mar. 28, Troy, Ohio. An elementary education major, "Peggy" had taught fourth grade in Lombard, Ill., and Fresno, Calif. Also an avid traveler and camper, she spent six years as a junior high camp counselor and two years in Waterloo, Ia., as a Headstart volunteer. Also in Waterloo, she was director of children's choirs. She is survived by her husband, John D. Glick; a daughter, Karen Marie; a son, Brian; a brother, Thomas B. Robinson '66; and her parents, Mary (Howe) '34 and Paul M. Robinson '35.

Ziegler Captures Film Award

DEBORAH J. ZIEGLER '76, now a graduate student at the University of Southern California, has earned a third place in the Film Study category of FOCUS '78, an annual competition for college filmmakers and film critics sponsored by the Nissan Motor Corporation in U.S.A.

Cited for her critical analysis of McCabe and Mrs. Miller, "Money and Pain or The Man Who May Have Shot Bill Roundtree," Ms. Ziegler was recognized March 24 at a ceremony hosted by Paramount Studios in Los Angeles. An audience of more than 275 distinguished members of the film community and a host of celebrities attended. Actor/writer Chevy Chase served as master of ceremonies.

The 300 entries in Film Study were judged by critics Molly Haskell of New York magazine, Andrew Sarris of the Village Voice, Arthur Knight of the Hollywood Reporter, Bruce Williamson of Playboy magazine, and by Ted Perry, film department director of the Museum of Modern Art. Judging was based on studied knowledge of American cinema and the ability to write cogently and imaginatively about it.

For third place, Ms. Ziegler received a Rollei movie camera and a $750 scholarship. Other winners represented Yale, Columbia and Southern Illinois Universities, Southern Cal, the College of Staten Island, and the Arts Center College of Design in Pasadena.

"From the first cynical words of Leonard Cohen's ballad," says Ms. Ziegler in her study, "we sense that McCabe and Mrs. Miller is to be as peculiar a Western as M.A.S.H. was a war film. (Director Robert) Altman, a filmmaker who could never be accused of being conventional, blows a breath of fresh air into a genre as ridden with cliché as any other. As Altman has said, 'I just wanted to take a very standard Western story with a classic line and do it real or what I felt was real and destroy all the myths of heroism.'

"McCabe and Mrs. Miller is made up of many of the stock characters and situations that are totally recognizable from other Westerns . . . Altman, however, handles these elements very differently, infecting his own sensitive feel for reality."

Reinhart Cited for Standards Work

FRANK W. REINHART '30, presently an independent consultant in plastics science and technology, received in March the Spes Hominum Award of the National Sanitation Foundation of Ann Arbor, Mich.

"The Hope of Mankind," the award medal reads, "rests in the ability of man to first define and then seek out the environment which will permit him to live with his fellow man in health, in peace and in mutual respect."

Dr. Reinhart, who taught chemistry and physics at Juniata from 1930-37, was a summa cum laude graduate. He later did graduate work at Columbia University and the University of Maryland, and in 1958 was awarded Juniata's honorary doctor of science degree.

Upon leaving Juniata, he joined the staff of the National Bureau of Standards. He became chief of the Plastics Section in 1952, directing the Bureau's plastics and adhesives programs until the Section's abolishment in 1962. In addition to his consulting work, he then served through 1977 as the first technical director of the Plastics Pipe Institute. He is also a past chairman and a charter member of the Board of Trustees of the Plastics Institute of America.

Dr. Reinhart has written some 60 technical papers on plastics of several types, adhesion and adhesives, and plastics piping. He has also authored numerous material and test methods standards, and his recent award is not his first.

Among others, he has received the Superior Accomplishment and Meritorious Service Awards of the U.S. Department of Commerce, the Award of Merit and Adhesives Award of the American Society for Testing and Materials, and the Award of Merit of the American Gas Association.

"The plastics pipe industry nationally and internationally," his latest award said, "has benefited from his contributions." Dr. Reinhart was termed "an unyielding advocate of strong and effective technical standards and for objective evaluation of product compliance with such standards."

Dr. Reinhart and his wife, the former Mary Hilda Wilson '28, live in Silver Spring, Md.

Neff . . .

(continued from page 1)

University, having studied in Israel and Germany as a Two Brothers' Fellow. Also a former Danforth Fellow, he has further studied at Cambridge University.

Though ordained to the ministry in 1960, Dr. Neff had primarily taught biblical studies before assuming his Church post in January. After a year on the faculty at Bridgewater College, he spent 12 years at Bethany Theological Seminary.

He has been a representative to the National Council of Churches, the Ruschlikon Conference and the National Association of Evangelicals, and has served on the Brethren Church and Agriculture Committee and Committee on Divorce and Remarriage. He has co-authored Using Biblical Simulations, has co-edited a Guide to Biblical Studies, and has published a number of articles and papers in journals and magazines.

Beckley Gift Gets National "Ink"

Mrs. Mary Francis Beckley's unique bequest to the College, with which she established a scholarship fund for left-handed students, is now familiar throughout the nation, thanks to avid attention from the print and broadcast media.

The late Mrs. Beckley's gift, described in December's Bulletin, got perhaps its most widespread exposure from the NBC Today show December 8. Today's Jane Pauley, after much staff contact with Juniata, devoted several minutes to the story, which included the late Will Judy's gift for a room for red-headed students.

Newspaper and magazine readers, however, have also been extensively apprised of the "Southpaw Scholarship" or "Lefty Liberation," as various writers have coined the fund. Among the papers: the Wall Street Journal, Boston Globe, Philadelphia Inquirer, Sarasota Herald-Tribune and Fresno Bee. Among the others: Change magazine, a leader in higher education, and the Chronicle of Higher Education.

Coverage varied from straight news to light yet meaningful editorial. Several writers focused on the romance (the Beckleys, both southpaws, met on the Juniata tennis courts), some on the question of "left-handed power."

Mused the Globe satirically, "Speaking for the majority, the 90 percent of us who are right-handed and right-thinking, we think it is—to choose our word adroitly—sinister (from the Latin sinister, on the left). If those lefthanders get education, they may get power and if they get power—Who knows?—we may have to play golf cross-handed, pluck our guitars upside down and just totally desist from using scissors to cut out paper dolls.

"The only possible benefit of this tyranny of the minority might be that we'll all start driving on the left-hand side of the highway, that steering wheels will be moved to the right-hand side of cars and that we starboard-siders will have an easier time pitching our quarters into toll-collection machines."

Said Change in its lengthy, page-four column, "To the 10 percent of the population that has been maligned and browbeaten by almost every culture in the history of man, this must come as cheering news . . .

"It may be a long time before radical southpaws win their 'Bill of Lefts,' but with the Juniata scholarship, lefties now have at least a few educators, traditionally among their most egregious persecutors, backing them (and) 25 million American left-handers will greet it with a rousing, 'Left on!'"

On campus, President Binder summarized reaction. "We've deeply appreciated Mrs. Beckley's gift from the first. The helpful expression of a strong attachment to the College, often with unique roots, is not at all unusual, especially at Juniata. We knew there would be humor in this case, and we're grateful for the attention as well as the support. The bonus comes, however, in the unexpected. In many cases, the story has evoked some very real thought, has opened a number of eyes, and has provided some very effective social comment."

Jane Pauley

NBC Photo

JUNIATA COLLEGE
Huntingdon, Pennsylvania 16652

JUNIATA

JUNIATA

THE JUNIATA COLLEGE BULLETIN

JUNE 1978

VOLUME LXXVI / No. 5

Scenes from a varied Reunion Weekend, 1978: above left, President Binder throws out a first ball in the NCAA baseball tournament, May 25-28; right, David A. Kreider '71, director of alumni affairs, prepares contestants for "Anything Goes"; below, the Golden Reunion Class of '28 gathers by the Cloister.